

Werner Von Clemm is pictured in New York federal court where he answered an indictment charging him with directing an "importing" corporation in New York City which disposed of diamonds and precious gems seized by the Nazis during their invasion of the Netherlands and Belgium. It was claimed that the money derived from the sale of the German loot was used to pay for Axis propaganda both in the United States and South America.

ADMIRAL NAMED HAWAII CHIEF

Nimitz, New Pacific Fleet Commander, Directs Hawaiian Defenses

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The new commander of the Pacific fleet is in charge of all Hawaiian defenses, Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today in telling of a speeded-up process for unity of command for important outposts and task forces.

Although expedited by the Pearl Harbor disaster where the Army and Navy commands were found not to be collaborating, the efforts to attain unity between land and sea forces have been in progress, however, since Britain's loss of Crete dramatized its necessity, Stimson told a press conference.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz now is in charge at Hawaii. In the Panama Canal zone, Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews of the Army air force is in command. In other areas of the Caribbean, however, Stimson disclosed the Atlantic fleet commander was in general charge. In the Far East, all forces of the united nations are headed up by British General Sir Archibald Wavell.

The war secretary declined to state the arrangement in Iceland. Stimson said that the question of War department action on Major General Walter C. Short, the relieved Hawaiian army commander, was "under careful study and consideration," but declined to say when a decision might be expected.

"General Short is now at his home awaiting orders," Stimson noted.

ICKES SAYS PETROLEUM SITUATION IS "TIGHT"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Interior Secretary Ickes said today the petroleum situation in the east, where rationing was imposed last summer, was "tight and getting tighter" as a result of ship tanker sinkings and diversion of such vessels to war service.

The secretary, who also is petroleum coordinator, declined to predict that gasoline rationing was forthcoming, but indicated he might reopen a proposal to build a $80,000,000 pipeline from Texas to New Jersey.

HOUSE BACKS CHURCHILL BY 464 TO 1

HITLER FINDS THAT HE NEEDS HIS GENERALS

Adolf Reported to Have Compromised With Ousted Leaders

SWEEEPING GAINS RECORDED BY REDS

Additional Advances By Rommel Reported In Libyan Warfare

(By Associated Press)

Sweeping new gains by Russia's armies were reported today as word circulated in London that Adolf Hitler, who five weeks ago ousted Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch and assumed supreme command of the German army, had reached a compromise with his generals because he was "unable to carry on without the aid of experienced strategists."

In dismissing von Brauchitsch a few days before Christmas, Hitler declared his "intuitions" had led "to reserve to himself personally all essential decisions" in directing the war.

Changes His Mind

The British ministry of information circulated extracts of an article in the anti-Axis German language newspaper Die Zeitung, published in London, declaring that the fuhrer now had changed his mind and that commands of the conservative Generals Von Bock, Von Rundstedt, Von Leeb and others "have been confirmed and they are now in charge of new armies."

"The newspaper said the compromise was 'equivalent to an admission on the part of Hitler' that he needed Germany's military brains to conduct the war. Hitler served as corporal in the 1914-1918 World war.

Amid steadily mounting reverses on the Soviet front, the German war machine appeared to be executing something of a comeback in North Africa.

British Middle East headquarters acknowledged that Gen. Erwin Rommel's Libyan counter-offensive, which had driven the British back 150 miles in five days, scored a new advance to within 16 miles of British-held Bengasi, on the Gulf of Sirte.

Change Course

The British said Gen. Rommel's forces suddenly veered to the west and northwest in the last 24 hours after being stalled for two days in an eastward thrust. The new assault carried the Axis troops to Regima, inland and just east of Bengasi.

On the Russian front, Soviet dispatches reported a 93-mile advance by Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's armies somewhere on the southwest (Ukraine) front, along with the capture of 90,000 prisoners.

Russian naval dispatches declared in a summary of "Far North operations that Soviet submarines had been playing havoc with Nazi transport attempting to supply German forces above the Arctic circle.

The dispatches said Red fleet submarines had sunk, among other vessels, 45 troop and supply ships totaling 200,000 tons and declared that if Nazi troops in Finland and Norway were suffering from lack of food, clothing and ammunition, it was due to Soviet naval activities.

Homer Laughlin Pottery Price Move Not General

SEBRING, Jan. 29.—Sebring general ware potters manufacturers did not follow the lead of the Homer Laughlin China Co. of Newell, W. Va., in withdrawing price increases.

Spokesmen of the Sebring plants declared the Newell company had only withdrawn prices on two or three lines of ware, representing only a fraction of its output and said the price advance on Sebring-made ware was made necessary by increasing costs of materials and recent 10 per cent general advance in wages.

JAPS PUSH ON; CRISIS NEAR AT SINGAPORE

Zero Hour Approaches with Battling Now 40 Miles From Island

FIGHTING HEAVY ON ENTIRE FRONT

Observers Wonder whether Fortress Will Be Another Maginot

BY ROGER D. GREENE

Associated Press War Editor
The fateful battle for Singapore raged only 40 miles away in the jungles of southern Malaya today, and as "zero hour" approached, the world waited an answer to the mystery of the island stronghold's $400,000,000 defenses.

For the moment, Australian, British and imperial Indian troops appeared to be holding a solid front against picked Japanese forces.

British headquarters said bayonet-wielding Australians successfully counter-attacked the invaders in Central Malaya, while heavy fighting developed along the entire front.

Another Maginot?

1. Will Singapore, with its ear-shattering 18-inch guns turned toward the sea, become another "Maginot line"—a defenseless shell when attacked from the rear?

2. Or have the British erected a secret network of death-trap defenses at the lower tip of the Malay peninsula, guarding the mile-wide water barrier to Singapore island from the north?

Pre-war dispatches from Singapore told of giant guns so powerful their detonations would burst ear drums at 100 yards and knock pictures from the walls within a radius of several miles.

But as the hour of crisis neared, it remained to be seen whether the great fortress—originally built as an "impregnable" defense bastion against attack by sea—may have become out-moded under modern conditions of aerial warfare.

Meanwhile, Japan's invasion hordes launched a new two-pronged drive into Dutch West Borneo, sharply threatening the chief city of Pontianak, south of the "white rajah" kingdom of Sarawak.

Pontianak lies 400 miles east across the China sea from Singapore.

DRAFT OFFICIALS TO SCAN CLASS 3

Men Acquiring Dependents After Sept. 16, 1941, May Be Reclassified

The Salem district draft board at its regular meeting this week will reopen all cases of registrants who acquired dependents after Sept. 16, 1940, either by marriage or otherwise, and to reclassify such registrants unless they can prove the dependency was not acquired to avoid the draft.

Intimations that this action would be taken have been made frequently late but official orders from state Selective Service headquarters to this effect have been received here by Clerk G. M. Griffith.

Begin Work In Few Days

Re-examination of questionnaires of all registrants in Class 3, the largest group, will begin within a few days, it was indicated.

Subject to Scrutiny

Indications are, according to state headquarters instruction to the boards, that cases of dependency dating before Sept. 16, 1940, will not be reopened. However, boards have the duty of reopening any questionable case at any time.

If a board has reason to believe that an older case might be doubtful under the new stricter interpretations of dependency, it may reopen the case and reclassify if evidence showed the registrant did not have "dependents in fact."

U-Boat Onslaught No Flash; Looms as Steady Campaign

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
Extension of the U-boat warfare in American waters, and the savagery exhibited in such attacks as that on the passenger liner Lady Hawkins which was sunk without warning with heavy loss of life, hold two vital lessons for the allies, which if it can get its feet on our soil, will reenact the horrors which have perpetrated in such invaded countries as Yugoslavia, Poland and China.

2. The Axis is striking hard at the very heart of the Allied war-power—production and transportation. Those are the two fundamentals on which we have to win this war.

Every cargo of war material which goes to the bottom of the sea in these crucial hours is a big victory for Hitler and his minions. Every ship which is sunk lessens our ability to transport supplies.

And the moral of these lessons rather obviously is that it is only by a supreme effort of production and shipbuilding—the devotion of everything we have to this end—that the Allies can defeat the enemy. Everybody knows the Allies have by far the greater potential resources, but that won't do us any good if we don't get them into action—not a year hence, but now. That means total sacrifice and total effort on the part of every one of us.

This fresh Hitlerian assault on shipping is no flash in the pan. We must expect it to gather intensity with the improvement of the weather over the Atlantic. And to the deprecations of the U-boats on both sides of the ocean is likely to be added a heavy air offensive against vessels in European waters.

CITES REASON FOR LACK OF FAR EAST AID

Burma, Malaya Could Have Been Helped at Russia's Expense

REINFORCEMENTS ARE ON WAY NOW

No Aircraft Carrier Available When Battleships Were Sunk

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The house of commons voted confidence today in the Churchill government, 464 to one, in the third and last day of a general war debate.

Churchill's address followed debate in which further criticism of his government piled up, including that of Socialist Dennis Nowell Fritt who asserted that "lucky-warm supporters of fascism in the government are a very serious and anxious menace."

The prime minister said that the landing of the American troops in northern Ireland—a part of the united kingdom which shares a land frontier with Eire—"cannot do him good; it offers a measure of protection to southern Ireland and Ireland as a whole which she would not otherwise enjoy."

Prime Minister Eamon De Valera protested that the Americans landed in northern Ireland without prior consultation of his government.

Cites Aid to Russia

Turning to criticism of setbacks in the southwest Pacific, Churchill said that if Britain had reduced her help to Russia she would have been better prepared in Burma and Malaya.

"But," he added, "we did not make such a reduction and I believe that the vast majority of opinion in the house and country endorses our decision now even after the events in the Far East have taken place."

"I cannot tell how the Johore battle or the attack on the island of Singapore will go, but there has been a steady flow of reinforcements for several weeks past."

Churchill said that the battleships, Prince of Wales and the Repulse, sunk off Malaya at the outset of the Japanese attack there, had been sent into action without air support against Japanese bombing "because there was no available aircraft carrier to accompany the two battleships."

TWO WOMEN INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Two women were injured when cars operated by Louis N. Tanno, 29, of Youngstown, and Jesse C. Matthews, 49, of East Palestine, collided at the junction of Routes 45 and 165, north of Salem, at 7:45 p. m. yesterday, state highway patrolmen reported.

Mrs. Mathews, 50, received leg bruises, while their daughter, Eleanor, 18, suffered lacerated knees and bruises. They were treated at City hospital.

Tanno, whose car was reported to have skidded into the other machine, was cited into Mayor Lloyd Culler's court at Washingtonville, where he drew a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving and $5 and costs on a charge of failure to have a driver's license.

No one was reported injured when automobiles operated by Harry Westphal, 17, of R. D. 1, Salem, and Elmer Newness, 23, of Cleveland, were involved in a collision on the Benton road, two miles northwest of here, at 3 a. m. today. Westphal's car struck the rear of the other machine, whose lights had gone out.

Kenneth Dyke, 31, of Negley, charged by the patrol with speeding in a truck, and Clyde Stock, 23, of R. D. 2, Lisbon, arrested for driving a truck with no muffler equipment, were fined $5 and costs each at Lisbon yesterday.

BATTLE OF MACASSAR STRAIT

Circumstantial evidence in navy department communications suggests that the first great naval battle of World War II has been fought in Macassar Strait, shortest route from the Philippines to the Java sea. Control of the sea is vital; it is the southern approach to Singapore—the route that United States aid must take until the China sea route can be reopened.

In World War I, the battle of Jutland was the high point of naval warfare. Great Britain and Germany, both major naval powers, met head-on in an attempt to settle the question of supremacy at one stroke. The result was the bottling up of the German surface fleet for the duration of the war, though British losses were heavier in the battle, itself.

Naval experts have viewed it as improbable that there ever would be a replica of the battle of Jutland. Future naval engagements, they theorized, would be hit-and-run "incidents," on the theory that the side which whittled down the other side's strength first would be the victor. Direct, full-dress engagements, they contended, had become too expensive. No naval power would risk all its fleet in one gigantic battle.

The battle of Macassar Strait seems to uphold this theory. Japan apparently has been caught in extraordinary force by a strong detachment of enemy fighting units, including part of the United States fleet. The indications are that the bulk of the damage is at the expense of non-fighting Japanese units being used to convey soldiers; it is less a battle than a raid on a convoy. Nevertheless, from the standpoint of shipping engaged, it is the first great naval battle of World War II.

BETTER LUCK THIS TIME

These American soldiers who have landed in Ulster have come back "to finish the job." That's what is being said about them. Their fathers, it seems, left some things undone 25 years ago.

The phrase-makers will have to pardon some violent objections to this latest nifty. The 1942 model of "over there" can't be explained so easily. The new expeditionary force isn't going to Europe to finish something left undone by its predecessor of World War I.

It is being sent abroad to pay for the mistakes of the diplomats who did a bungling job of winning the peace after soldiers had won the war. There was one chance of preserving peace. It was to make certain that the first government which itched for war would be taught that war was out of style. The victors muffed that chance. Great Britain refused to stand by France when Germany reoccupied the Rhineland. France and Great Britain cheerfully looked the other way while Italy seized Ethiopia. Great Britain could not find time or the means to stand with the United States against Japan's aggression in China. Everybody was willing to let everybody else hang separately until it finally became plain they were all going to hang together. That wasn't the fault of the job the A. E. F. did in 1917-18.

It remains to be seen what will happen when another A. E. F. has done what is expected of American fighting men on trial. The wish their countrymen are sending abroad is short and sweet: Better luck this time.

WE CELEBRATE A BIRTHDAY

In any list of American characteristics, something about the celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday on Jan. 30 should be included. It tells a lot about the aspirations of a country founded on Christian principles.

Though his countrymen have learned not to think of it as a physical handicap in his case, the President is one of numerous victims of infantile paralysis. It threatened to bar him from political activity at one time, but he refused to be discouraged.

By coincidence, he became chief executive at a time when national determination to do something positive about the disease was crystallizing; his birthday offered an opportunity for publicizing what became known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Foundation has been successful; millions of Americans have worked for it and contributed to its efforts. A national habit has been created, comparable to the habit of buying Christmas seals to maintain the successful campaign against tuberculosis. In all likelihood, President Roosevelt's birthday will be celebrated for years to come, not for the benefit of the man but for the benefit of human beings who share the heavy physical handicap he overcame. It is about as close to the dream of applied Christianity as any nation professing to practice Christianity ever has come.

UNSUING HEROES

Secretary of Labor Perkins has added her official contralto consent to the work policy adopted unofficially for the duration of the war.

The policy calls for everybody to do as much as possible to speed war production. Nothing is to be allowed to interfere. Miss Perkins is particularly anxious that state laws should be made to accommodate the needs of the production emergency.

Factories should be operated on 24-hour, seven-day schedules, though maximum work weeks should be held at 48 hours. Adequate provision should be made for safety, health, etc. There should be "heroic efforts" on the part of management, labor and government. These are her recommendations.

Unfortunately for all concerned, Miss Perkins has omitted one of the sources of "heroic effort." It can't be doubted that "heroic efforts" are being made by management these days, due in large part to government's heroic and costly efforts to keep management from rising above bureaucratic red tape. Labor, on its part, finds its efforts being metered at time and a half and double time for everything in excess of 40 hours a week. Taxpayers are going to be the real heroes of the war effort in the last analysis. Where their efforts are concerned there are no restrictions.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, January 30.

THE PLANETARY situation bearing rule on the affairs of this day seems to leave it all to the personal choice and individual performance of those who are inspired by sincerity, steadfastness, perseverance, sound judgment and high purposes. Industry, hard work, loyalty, adaptability, with attention to details and practical programs should win the respect and substantial cooperation of employers, elders, superiors or others whose endorsements are vital to ambitious objectives. It is a time to work to such ends.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which their progress and enduring security and good fortune depend on their individual effort, with the substantial support of those whose aid, appreciation and responsibility are needed for progress and achievement. Industry, sincerity, sound ideas and practical abilities as well as capacity for details, system and executive charge should win this advance, even through speculative enterprises as well as old established association. Property and investments should also thrive.

A child born on this day should be earnest, loyal, practical, and possess such sterling characteristics as to win sound support from those in influence as also relatives, elders and friends.

Some people say we are to come out of the present war with a new philosophy of life. Are they trying to kid us? Can't imagine human nature changing. The thrifty will remain thrifty and the slothful will stay slothful.

Science is doing its utmost to prolong human life, and at the same time find methods whereby sudden death can be made more certain.

Another thing we've been wondering about is why Hitler doesn't take his pal, Mussolini, to the front with him.

"SWEET TOOTH"

WHAT TO DO FOR DYSPEPSIA

Some Cases Yield to Diet, Says Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
DYSPEPSIA may be defined as an undue awareness of the process of digestion. Strictly speaking, indigestible foods are those that are unaffected or only slightly affected by any of the digestive juices. Foods which cause dyspepsia are those which produce a faulty reaction in some part of the digestive tract.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Aside from intestinal invalids, who are a rule to themselves, and those who have indigestion from some reflex or organic cause such as gallstones, gall-bladder disease or ulcer of the stomach, dyspepsia is mostly functional and can be divided into the type of person who likes to eat but who suffers for it and the type of person who can work up no enthusiasm for food at all.

Diet is, of course, an important form of treatment in all such cases, although it is not the only treatment.

In the form of dyspepsia which we may call "indigestion" because there is discomfort associated with meals, the tendency lately is to give plenty of food of a non-irritating character. I append below a typical diet for one day for such a patient and will print others in the course of the next few weeks:

Breakfast: Grapefruit sections; oatmeal porridge; poached egg; crisp bacon; grape jelly; toast, butter, cream; weak tea or coffee.

10 A. M.: Milk and crackers.

Dinner: Chicken fricassee; baked potato; wax beans; butterscotch pudding; bread; butter; milk; weak tea.

3 P. M.: Cocoa and crackers.

Supper: Cream of asparagus soup; creamed sweetbreads; ice cream; plain cake; bread; butter; weak tea or coffee.

9 P. M.: Hot oatmeal and toast.

I also give some general rules which have been found useful.

In your choice of foods observe the following rules: Avoid foods containing coarse fibres and sharp seeds, e. g., vegetables such as corn, celery and salad—also fermentative vegetables as cabbage, radishes and onions; avoid foods that are excessively salty or spicy; avoid stimulants—strong tea or coffee; avoid fried foods, rich desserts, and pastries; avoid condiments such as mustard, horseradish, catsup, and highly seasoned gravies, sauce and relishes. Use only tender meats, simply cooked and seasoned.

General Rules for Indigestion
Eat regularly and at the same hour each day. Take a definite length of time for meals: 20 minutes for breakfast and 30 minutes each for the noon-day meal and the evening meal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Mrs. D. B.: "Will you please settle an argument between my husband and me. He contends that carrots are good for the eyes. I say no food has any direct bearing on the eyes."

Answer: Carrots contain carotene which is the food from which Vitamin A is manufactured in the body. Vitamin A is the vitamin which affects certain structures in the retina of the eyes and prevents night blindness. Therefore I will reluctantly have to side with your husband in this controversy.

W. B. C.: "1. Why is a certain person's temperature always colder than that of most normal persons? 2. Why are some people unable to ride elevators? 3. Does a great exhalation of breath indicate fatigue, or a type of disease? 4. Why is it that some adults sleep as long as infants?"

Answer: 1. The internal temperature of the body is the same in all human beings at all ages and under all climatic conditions with remarkable evenness. The temperature of the skin—of the hands and feet particularly—is likely to vary. This is due to nervous control of the superficial blood vessels.

2. People who are unable to ride in elevators either have some affection of the inner ear or it is due to nervousness.

3. A great exhalation of breath usually indicates nervousness.

4. Long sleeping is habit and not due to any disease.

Tire Dealers Weeks Behind As Motorists Call For Recaps

For motorists who want tires recapped, the line forms on the right. It's plenty long, so don't start shoveling.

Tire dealers here are as much as a month behind orders. Representatives of major manufacturers said similar conditions prevailed generally throughout the state.

Although rationing has not been applied to the recapping or retreading business, government rubber allotments are making it impossible to keep up with the demand, dealers reported.

Material Exhausted

One dealer, who said he was more than three weeks behind in filling orders for passenger car owners, reported exhausting his January allotment of retreading material.

One large Salem service station center reported that casings were being accepted for recap work, but that immediate deliveries could not be promised. Old tires which were sent to the firm's factory in Akron the first of December are back now.

More releases, the operator predicted, would come after February crude rubber allotments were made. Recapping stations have been working round-the-clock attempting to meet demands which rocketed after new tire and tube rationing became effective this month.

Truck owners are faring better. Allotments for commercial rolling stock have been more generous and the demand for retreads hasn't been so great from that source, dealers reported.

The material used to restore those deeply grooved treads on worn tires is known as camelback. One dealer estimated the average weight of new material for popular sized passenger tires at 6 1/2 pounds, of which about half is crude rubber. Hence the allotments.

"Quit Getting Hysterical"

One effect of curtailed allotments, a dealer surmised, would be to release for sale numerous second hand tires held in expectation of having them recapped when motorists "quit getting hysterical."

If it appears that recappers won't be able to catch up with orders, these old tires will go back on the market, a dealer explained. Another result of the shortages, dealers reported, was a mounting demand for repair kits, especially the larger shop kits used by commercial firms.

A sharp pickup in vulcanizing work also was reported. Dealers said they anticipated little difficulty in obtaining supplies for such work and predicted that vulcanizing would be used increasingly to keep in repair tires with small fabric breaks, which often were discarded before rationing.

Many Never Suspect Cause of Backaches

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

"Adolescent Child" Is Mothers' Topic

"The Adolescent Child" was the subject of the study for Progressive Mothers at their meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Mrs. E. F. Keifer on E. Third st.

Mrs. Blair Curry, in charge of the topic, pointed out that at the teen-age young people begin to assert their independence, exhibiting signs of mental, spiritual, social and physical growth which is often a problem for parents to cope with since it is necessary to guide and correct the individual without alienating the child.

Adolescents, like adults, will balance periods of activity with periods of rest if not over-stimulated. The adolescent child needs some unscheduled time each day to use as he sees fit because it is easy to overload the individual's schedule in spite of the best efforts of school and home. Responsibility for the adolescent should be increased each year so that his adaptation to social changes and life as an adult instead of a child may be accomplished.

Members knitted during the meeting for the Red Cross and made plans to contribute to the Red Cross war relief fund.

Plans were discussed for a benefit to raise funds for the Welfare Unit.

The Feb. 10 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lester Lehman on S. Union ave. Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite will be guest speaker. Her subject will be "Guidance In the Field of Music."

Officers, committee chairmen and committee members are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. John Bauman, N. Union ave., at 7:30 p. m. Feb. 4 to plan for the Women's Missionary Federation conference to be held in May at the church.

"No institution is going to be taken for granted from now on," said Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder of Washington, D. C. "A larger working formula for an expanded universe is needed by the church if it is to win."

Ministers were warned against too much self-assurance.

"A socially ambitious and selfish person can not do very much for the Kingdom of God," he said.

Dr. Roy L. Smith of Chicago, editor of "The American Advocate," declared that the church does not know the answer to many perplexing ministers and laymen alike.

"But we have the direction," he said. "It is at the tomb of Jesus on Easter morning, when the message was, 'He is alive.' That is our faith. That is our message."

The Pastors association yesterday commended the state administration for "its policy on complete separation of gambling from all places that dispense liquor." The ministers also called for opposition to a movement to legalize gambling.

RELEASE FLOW OF LIVER BILE
And You May Enjoy Life More—Sleep Sounder—Awake Refreshed—Ready for a Good Day's Work.

Normally your liver should discharge about a quart of precious digestion-aiding juices every 24 hours. A starchy flow—a slowing up may mean sick headaches, so-called biliousness, poor digestion with that "half-sick" depressed feeling.

Stir yourself! Probably all you need is a gentle excitant: take half a teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts (a famous blend of six salts) in three-quarters of a glass of hot or cold water every morning, half an hour before breakfast. Don't miss a morning. This simple sensible prescription that has worked wonders for thousands, should do the same for you. Try Kruschen—a famous English formula—for 30 days to shake off that "run down" feeling and get a real "lift." Keep it up for 30 days. You must feel 100% better, or your money back.

BRIGHT, GAY DRESSES BRIGHTEN THE DARK DAYS

About now everyone is getting pretty tired of dark clothes and dark days, and people are longing for sunshine and bright, gay colors. Early spring prints are in now, and are worn under fur coats and fur-trimmed cloth coats, so you can get one any time you want to. New prints are colorful and amusing. The three shown above are excellent examples of the patterns. They are named penmanship prints, and are designed by Saxon. The one on the left is very sentimental, and has "I love you" written all over it. It is a youthful dirndl style with snug, low neckline, and is made of rayon broadcloth. Quill, shown center, is another design in the same fabric. The dress features a fly front closing, softly draped pockets and bracelet-length sleeves. The third is a "Doodler" print, and the design looks as if it were copied from a telephone pad. The frock has a fly front opening down to the belt, a pleated skirt, and two curved patch pockets.

LANGER OUSTED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The senate elections committee reported today that Senator Langer (R., N. D.) was not entitled to a senate seat because of a "continuous, contemptuous, and shameful disregard for high concepts of public duty."
"The respondent (Langer)," the committee said, "has not avoided, and cannot avoid, the consequences of the acts of gross impropriety, lawlessness, shotgun law enforcement, jail breaking, violation of oath as an attorney, rabble-rousing, civil disobedience, breach of the peace, obstruction of the administration of justice and tampering with court officials."
Asserting that the integrity of the senate was at stake, the committee asked the chamber to deny membership to the former governor of North Dakota, and recommended that action be taken by a simple majority vote.
Filing of the committee report climaxed more than a year of investigations and public hearings on allegations made against Langer by a group of North Dakota petitioners. Langer was seated "without prejudice" Jan. 3, 1941, and continues to serve with all the rights and privileges of a senator pending a final vote by the senate.

DRAFT OFFICIALS TO SCAN CLASS 3

The state notice also informed draft boards that they do not need to send a registrant notice that his case is being reopened. If the case is reopened and the registrant is reclassified, the board is required to send him notice of his new classification and if it is 1-A, he is given full rights of appeal.

Can Request Evidence
The boards may, however, call the man in to give verbal evidence or ask him to send written evidence showing why he should be left in class 3.

If a case of this kind is reopened, the burden of proof is placed on the registrant to show that, if he is acquired a dependent after Sept. 16, 1940, he did not do so to avoid the draft. If he acquired such a dependent (wife, parent or minor child becoming dependent on him for full support) after Dec. 8, 1941, he must show that this occurred through circumstances beyond his control to prevent to avoid being reclassified.

The draft board has abolished its 1H class of men over 28 years of age.
A number of men rejected in examinations yesterday at Canton due to dental deficiencies, have been placed in the 1-B class.

LIST 250 VICTIMS IN U-BOAT SINKING

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, Jan. 29.—An Axis submarine appeared today to have inflicted the heaviest loss of life in enemy forays off United States waters with 250 persons, including Americans, dead or missing in the torpedo sinking of the Canadian liner, Lady Hawkins.

Seventeen survivors are Americans, 12 from St. Joseph, Mo. The others were from Canada, Newfoundland, the British Isles and the British West Indies.

Pound last Friday by the New York-Puerto Rico steamer, Coamo, they were landed here yesterday.

was very good last summer, the pilots say, but is slow now.
Most of the pilots were trained in "Lille Norge" (Little Norway) near Toronto, Canada.

Periodically ships of the royal Norwegian navy put in after patrol. Many of the seamen and officers fought in the brief naval actions around Oslo in April, 1940. Others were recruited from the large Norwegian merchant fleet.

Trim Men of War
The men of war are trim and businesslike and the handling of the ships is praised by British and American naval officers.

Because of the threat of German vengeance on their families, no individual escapes can be revealed. But hundreds of the men escaped by small boats across the turbulent North sea. Many of the ski instructors skied across the frontier into Sweden and then via Moscow, Ankara and Cairo reached Britain to take up arms against the Germans.

West and Cuba. Their apparent mission was to prey on coastal shipping, preferably the tankers which shuttle from the gulf oil ports. However, there was a potential threat of even more daring activity, for the Gulf of Mexico via the Yucatan channel is a side-door entrance to the Caribbean and the inner approaches to the Panama canal.

Taking Long Risks
Whatever their objectives, the raiders were taking exceptionally long risks. A number of air and navy bases ring the gulf. Army and navy authorities kept mum on counter operations, but the belief here was that they were vigorous in nature.

The apparent shift of intensive undersea warfare to unescorted American coastwise shipping was of tantamount interest here, but of officialdom also was concerned over the status of the engagement in the Strait of Macassar. The navy had no comment last night as to whether the attacks on the badly hammered Japanese convoy were continuing, but advices from Java indicated that the big enemy fleet was still caught in the strait it entered last Friday.

WOULD LIMIT NAVY CONTRACT POWERS

Walsh Backs Proposal To Reduce Excess War Profits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Limitation of the navy's authority to negotiate contracts without competitive bidding was proposed today by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the senate naval affairs committee as a step toward curbing war profits.

With colleagues questioning the cost of army fighting planes, Walsh told reporters he hoped to amend a pending bill so that he negotiated contracts under which many ships and planes are built for the navy would yield no excessive profits.

This might be accomplished, he said, by providing for the writing of cost restrictions into the contracts, pending submission by the treasury of a definite plan to restrict or recapture through taxation large profits piled up from armament contracts.

The senate unanimously approved and sent to the White House yesterday a $12,556,872.474 army appropriations measure providing funds for 23,000 combat and 10,000 training planes, after only 27 minutes of debate.

Asks Cost Reduction
Before the bill passed, however, Senator Tydings (D-Md.) told his colleagues he thought the time had arrived for some reduction in the cost of individual planes because the country rapidly was reaching a mass production basis.

Tydings declared that the average cost of planes and equipment under the bill would be $2550,000 each, and said it appeared that a "fixed" figure had been established which was not being reduced even though costs dropped under mass production schedules.

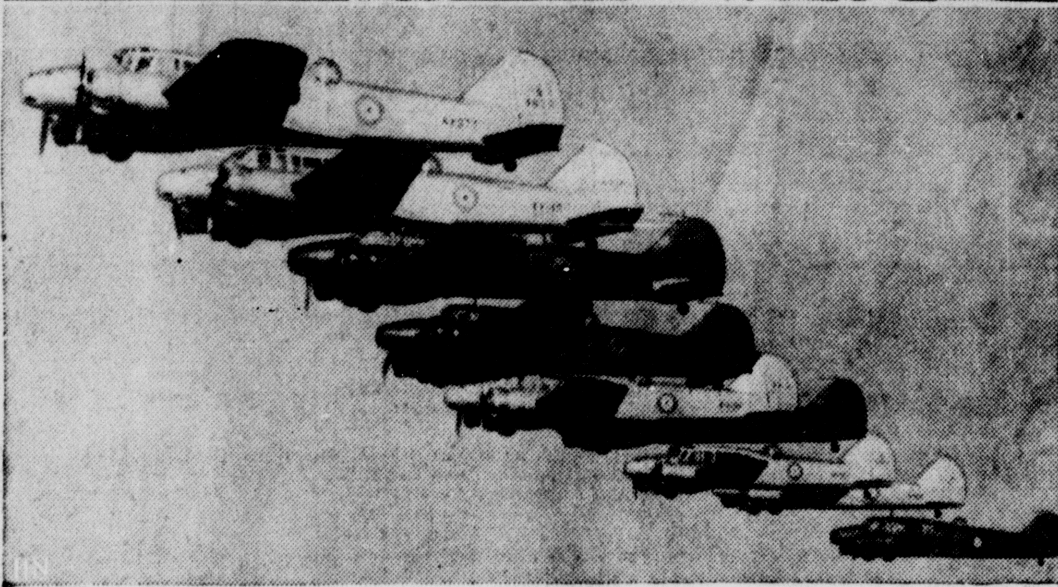

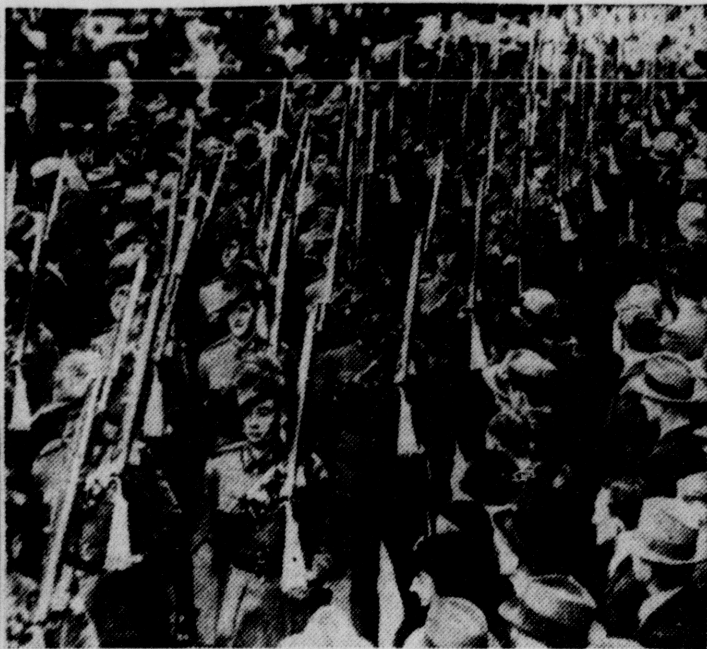

Complaining that the senate was called upon to approve the bill before the printed record of hearings before the appropriations committee became available, Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis.) asserted that congress was in a fair way toward losing its control of the purse.

Supporting the appropriation committee's appeal for speedy action on the measure, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) said Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of staff for air, had promised that every possible step would be taken to reduce the cost of planes.

Australia Now Threatened by Jap Attackers

For the first time in 154 years of history, Australia is fighting an invader now threatening the mainland shores. Japanese attacks and landings on islands making up Australia's outer defenses bring major cities within range of Japanese bombing planes. From the dominion's prime minister, John Curtin, came a demand on London for a direct voice in imperial war councils, for planes and ships to support its own fighting forces. Later Curtin announced that agreement had been reached for Australian representation on the United Nations Far Eastern general staff. Australian land troops, Curtin said, would be sent to the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Asserting that "nobody has a complete over-all picture of where the money available from federal agencies is being spent," Rep. Jones (R., Ohio) has called for a thorough investigation of expenditures for housing.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The house naval committee refused today by a vote of 14 to 6 to undertake a supplementary congressional inquiry into the Pearl Harbor disaster.

The vote came on a motion to request the documentary evidence collected by the President's special commission headed by Justice Owen Roberts in studying the tragedy.

"This means no investigation at this time, by this committee," declared Representative Maas (R., Minn.), ranking Republican member of the committee. Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) declined to elaborate on the announcement beyond saying that the motion had been tabled by a 14 to 6 vote.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Strong sentiment for separate investigations of United States losses at Pearl Harbor developed in two house committees today despite the detailed reports of the President's special commission headed by Justice Owen Roberts of the supreme court.

On the senate side of the capitol, meanwhile, criticism arose because no reinforcement have been sent to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's beleaguered forces in the Philippines, so far as is publicly known.

Rep. Maas (R-Minn.) said many members of the house naval committee wanted to inquire into the "system which apparently broke down and led to Pearl Harbor."

Would Probe System
"We should go back of the Roberts report," Maas said. "It is a fine document so far as fixing responsibility is concerned but there are implications that our system of operating the military and navy needs to be looked into."

At the same time, Chairman May (D-Ky.) said the house military committee might study conditions at the Hawaiian outpost but would wait until President Roosevelt or the war department had time to act.

"There has been no official indication that any further action would be taken by the administration."

"As commander-in-chief of our armed forces," May said, "The President may, if he believes the facts in the Roberts report justify it, dismiss those responsible for what happened at Pearl Harbor. He may, if he wishes, turn the report over to the war and navy departments and request courts-martial so they can present their side of the case if they wish."

In the event none of those possibilities develops, the Kentuckian said, "I believe our committee should make an investigation of the military end of the situation."

Talking to reporters concerning reinforcements for the Philippines, Senator Clark (D-Mo.) said he was nettled that American equipment seemed to be going in large part to Europe instead of toward the southwest Pacific.

Talking to reporters concerning reinforcements for the Philippines, Senator Clark (D-Mo.) said he was nettled that American equipment seemed to be going in large part to Europe instead of toward the southwest Pacific.

"It must have been a great source of comfort to General MacArthur to hear Churchill announce to the house of commons that we have plenty of bombers to send over Germany," he said with irony. "We ought to get some of those bombers out to the Philippines."

There was some criticism also of the transfer of American troops to northern Ireland, but Senator Chandler (D-Ky.) said no one ought to assume that this action precluded the early bolstering of forces of the United Nations opposing the Japanese.

"The people of the country ought to trust President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill to make the best plans they can for us," Chandler declared. He said he regarded the sending of troops to Ireland as demonstrating to the people of Great Britain "that we are moving."

Resume Coal Hearing

CINCINNATI, Jan. 29.—The bituminous coal division resumed its hearing today on complaints against an order requiring Cincinnati coal retailers to pay $1.89 a ton for deliveries from West Virginia fields regardless of the means of transportation. F. H. Callaway, chairman of the Solid Fuel Institute, urged permission for retailers to buy coal at F. O. B. mine prices and bring it here by whatever means was cheapest.

Balancing the Books

CINCINNATI—The board of education sent the city a bill for 30 cents, the result of a bookkeeping error. Rather than put the item through the city accounting mill again, City Manager C. O. Shorill, Council Finance Committee Chairman Willis D. Gradison, and Utilities Director Edgar Dow Gilman each put up a dime and the board's books are square again.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The war production board to meet the gas needs of growing war industries in the Appalachian area, yesterday announced it would permit completion of all natural gas wells which had been started on or before Dec. 23, 1941, in Ohio, Kentucky, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia and Tennessee.

WOMEN'S WORKING TIME IS DEBATED

CIO Is Openly Opposed To Relaxation of State Requirements

COLUMBUS, Jan. 29.—The controversial question of whether wartime conditions necessitate relaxation of the state law regulating maximum working hours for women in industry came up for public debate today.

Invited by George A. Strain, director of industrial relations, to give their views, labor leaders came here with the CIO openly opposed to the state administration's policy of letting down the bars, even temporarily.

Ted F. Silvey, Ohio CIO secretary-treasurer, said before an open conference in the state office building that Strain's issuance of temporary permits to some industries was unnecessary and contrary to law and that he would advise local unions to oppose putting into practice Strain's policy of letting war contract firms work their women employees more than 45 hours a week.

"We contend that there is an unemployed pool of women large enough that industrial work can be scheduled so as to avoid overwork of any women," Silvey declared. "Fatigue under Strain's policy will cut production and accidents will increase."

Strain told Gov. John W. Bricker Dec. 19 that he was issuing temporary permits to certain manufacturers to work women employees overtime so as to keep production lines up to schedule without permitting the collapse or destruction of labor laws.

Strain said later that skilled female labor was not available to meet the needs and that "this was an emergency which had to be met." He added that the temporary permits would not be extended beyond six weeks unless the affected concerns showed that they were unable to secure or train the necessary skilled labor.

Governor Bricker backed Strain, with the statement that "we are doing everything within our power to bring Ohio industry up to war demands. We will administer the law with justice, with the single purpose of winning the war."

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts)—The Japan Times and Advertiser intimated today that Japan might eliminate the last vestiges of French control in Indo-China unless hostile activities cease. OFFERS UNION FUND TO U. S. GOVERNMENT

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29.—Dan Tobin, authorized to turn $8,000,000 belonging to the teamsters international union over to the government as a loan with or without interest, hoped today that the gesture would start a vast flow of interest-free funds into the federal treasury.

Tobin will go to Washington next week to confer with treasury officials and seek a way to transfer the union's funds to government use. As President of the large American Federation of Labor affiliate, he was voted authority by the international's executive board to draw a check for the $8,000,000 and endorse it over to the United States government.

"We would like to see other large accumulations of cash made available to the government, interest free," said Tobin. "I can think of one organization right now that could very well turn $20,000,000 or more over for national use."

MARTIN ASSUMES NEW AIR COMMAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Major Gen. Frederick Martin, who was relieved of command of the Hawaiian air force after the Pearl Harbor attack, was given a new assignment today in a general shake-up of the Army air force.

Martin was made commander of the second air force with headquarters at Fort George Wright, Washington, which has responsibility for aerial defense of the vital northwest sector of the continental United States.

The Roberts commission report charged Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short and Admiral Husband E. Kimmel with "dereliction of duty" but did not name Martin who was subordinate to Short, then commander of the Hawaiian department.

Land at Penang
An N. E. I. communique said seaborne Japanese troops landed at Penang, 85 miles north of Pontianak, while Japanese land forces struck down from Japanese-occupied Kuching, the capital of Sarawak.

"Notwithstanding firm resistance, the Japanese are obtaining local successes, while Pontianak is being threatened," the Dutch communique said.

All important objectives on the spot have been destroyed by us." Official dispatches said Dutch troops were continuing stubborn resistance against other Japanese forces which landed earlier at Balikpapan, big oil port in east Borneo, and near Kendari, on Celebes island.

Celebes lies across the narrow Macassar strait from Borneo.

On the Malay front, a British spokesman indicated that hard fighting imperial troops were still fighting their lines intact, with no important changes overnight, amid heaviest Japanese pressure. British airmen, outnumbered but ever dangerous, gave what aid they could to the Australia, British and Indian forces aground on the zone which ran roughly from Rengit, 40-odd miles northwest of Singapore, to the town of Jema Luang, 55 miles above the naval base.

TWO BRITISH SHIPS TACKLE 4 OF ENEMY

LONDON, Jan. 29.—A naval battle in which two British destroyers spurned the odds and tackled a Japanese cruiser and three destroyers, sinking one destroyer and damaging a second at the cost of one, was announced by the admiralty today.

The British lost the 905-ton Thanet, a vessel completed at the end of the first World war, in the action which took place last Monday night off Endau, east coast port of Malaya 85 miles above Singapore.

Her comrade in the fight, the 1,090-ton Vampire of the Australian navy, escaped without damage or casualties.

Names of the Japanese vessels in the engagement were not given.

Made Daring Raid on Japanese

Here is the type of motor torpedo boat of the U. S. navy's "mosquito fleet" which made a daring raid into a western Philippine bay at night and blasted a 5,000-ton Japanese vessel in the face of fire of shore batteries. The small boat, capable of speed of at least 40 knots, or 46 miles per hour, made the daring raid into Binanga bay, inside the entrance to Subic bay, and opposite side of the Bataan peninsula from Manila bay. The small boat is armed with four 18-inch torpedo tubes and four machine guns in power-operated turrets.

AMOS DUNLAP, LES KNEPP SPARK EX-HIGHS TO VICTORY

Former Quaker Stars Score 14, 12 In Fitzpatrick Win Over Althouse

After trailing by one point at the half, the Fitzpatrick service five put on a burst of speed to overtake and defeat Althouse, 42-37, on the Memorial building court last night. Both teams started fast, with the score turning first in favor of one team and then the other. The period ended in a deadlock, 10-10. The Motors went ahead slightly in the second quarter, taking a 22-21 lead at the half.

Then Fitzpatrick, led by diminutive Amie Dunlap, Les Knepp and Sid Beechie, put on a spurt which eventually sewed up the ball game. Dunlap and Knepp led the winners in the scoring column with 14 and 12 points, respectively. The well-balanced Althouse attack was headed by Al Catlos, who flipped in 10.

In the first Class B game, the Demings five topped the Trojans by a 24-22 count in a fast game. Gordy Allen was practically the Deming offense as he tallied 13, or more than half of his team's total. "Boss" Wright and John "Hoopy" Drakulich led the well split-up scoring for the Trojans with six points each, while "Whitney" King tossed in five.

Cavaliers Win Seventh
The Cavaliers won their seventh game in a row on Don "Sal" Freed's two-pointers in the last 15 seconds when they defeated the Young People's Catholic club, 24-23, in an uphill battle. The game was pretty even in the first half with the score standing at 10-10 at the intermission. Bill Theiss had kept the Cavs in the game up to this point.

The Y. P. C. C. turned on the heat in the third quarter to pull away to an eight-point margin. But the Cavaliers had just begun to fight, and in the fourth, with Freed and Theiss hitting the hoop, they came from behind three times to knot the count before cashing in on Freed's shot, which was an oddity. It hit the brace which connects the hoop to the backboard, bounced high into the air, and came down through the rim for the winning points.

For the Cavaliers, Theiss and Freed led the scoring with 10 and eight points, respectively, while for the losers, Mike Hippely's eight markers topped scoring honors.

MEXICO U. RIPS BLUFFTON, 50-34

The University of Mexico's basketball team has drawn first blood in its invasion of Ohio. Last night the smooth-passing quintet defeated Bluffton, 50 to 34, after trailing at the first half, 23 to 20. The Mexicans play De Sales Sunday at Toledo.

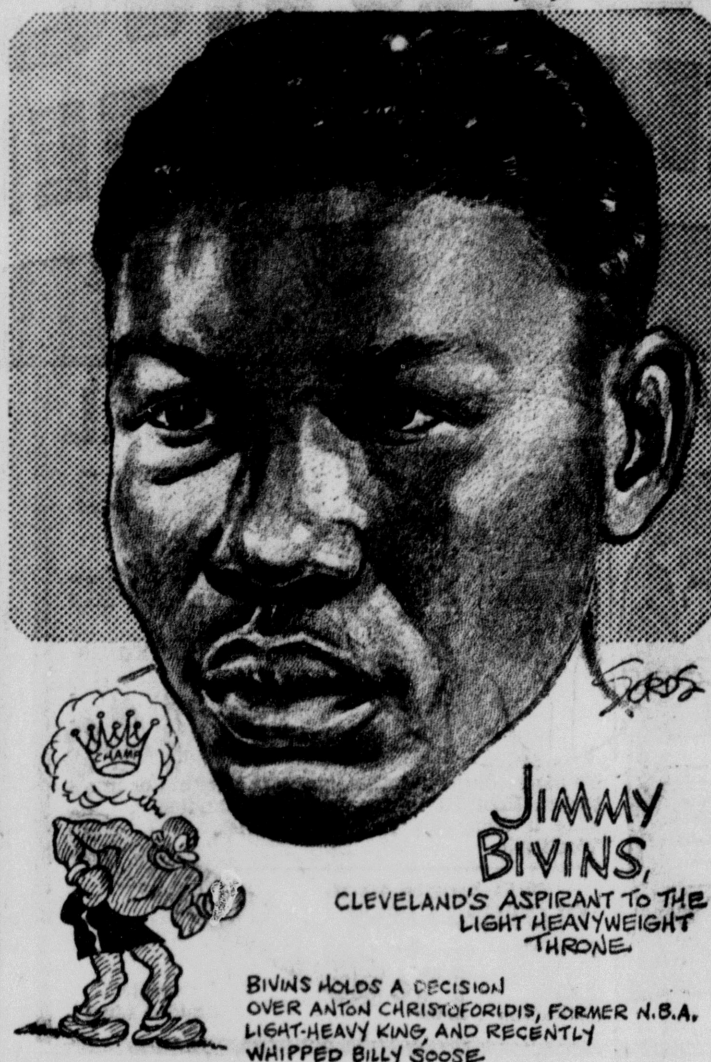

In the only other major college game in the state last night, Wilmington, was swamped by Cincinnati, 57 to 38. The Bearcats got off to an early lead and the home team never threatened.

Tonight's only game is an Ohio conference tilt: Bowling Green vs. Heidelberg.

The postal rate in Vichy, France, has increased by 50 per cent the first of the year.

BOWLING RESULTS

The standings of the Pastime remain unchanged in last night's bowling at the Grate alleys. The pace setting Citizen Ice five rolled over Hunt's three straight games. Dick Berry of Hunt's rolled a 211 in his first game.

Led by Jim Armstrong who battered the pins for a 627 total, Albright's stopped the Strop club three straight. Armstrong got his series on games of 221, 200 and 206.

The third place Jackson's copped three from the Eagles on a forfeit win. Hull fired a 203 his last game.

In a battle between the Salem Label and the Gold Bar, fourth and fifth place teams, respectively, the Labels copped the last two games after dropping the first by a single pin. Jim Jackson paced the Label five with a 579 series which included a 205.

In other matches, Loudon's won three from Bloomberg's on forfeit and Sponseller's copped two from Penney's, formerly the Elks.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Jackie Conn, Billy's kid brother, is about to start a ring comeback at the ripe old age of 19. He has been working on a farm and reports he is packing 198 pounds of muscle — which makes us wonder whether it would be better for Billy to become a farm hand or to teach Jackie to fight.

Couple of Oregon colleges are going to try putting the basketball officials in crow's nests behind the backboards and giving them loud speakers to explain their whistle-blowing. Linesmen, who won't be on the court, will fall out-of-bounds.

Today's Guest Star
John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram, is a lieutenant in the third photographic squadron. He says he hopes to dive on Berlin next time from something higher than a 33-foot tower.

Joe Guyon, Jr., former Catholic U. grinner and son of the old Carlisle star, is about to become the first American Indian to fly for the U. S. Navy.

Service Dept.
Marshall Wayne, who won the Olympic diving championship in Berlin, is a lieutenant in the third photographic squadron. He says he hopes to dive on Berlin next time from something higher than a 33-foot tower.

Joe Guyon, Jr., former Catholic U. grinner and son of the old Carlisle star, is about to become the first American Indian to fly for the U. S. Navy.

Shear Nonsense
The Washington Post recently described a gal wrestler as a "bustle-bound blonde." Tommy Fitzgerald of the Louisville Courier-Journal claims the Eastern colleges shouldn't have trouble finding reserve football material next fall, not with all those busts off the coast.

And Jack Tracy of the Atlanta Constitution thinks the war material that they'll be calling them "curtain backs."

QUICKEST PATH TO FAME ON DIAMOND LIES IN CATCHING

"Muddy" Ruel, White Sox Coach Sees Shortage Of Receivers

(By Associated Press)
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Harold (Muddy) Ruel, Chicago White Sox battery coach and one-time catcher for the great Walter Johnson, said, the squad spot behind the bat may prove the quickest ticket to the top for young players today.

Ruel thinks that baseball may soon face a shortage of catchers. The reason, he says, is that "young players today just don't seem to want to work hard.... and that's what catching requires—hard work and practice."

"What's the matter with boys today?" he asked. "Don't they know that baseball teams have catchers?"

The situation was brought forcibly to Ruel's attention at the opening of a baseball school of which he is head instructor. Nearly 50 boys reported, but not a single catcher was listed.

"The situation nationally is somewhat the same," the veteran backstop observed.

"I've seen young players come up to the majors after a little minor league experience and expect, once they were signed, to sit on the bench until time to play in a game. They didn't realize that it takes continued practice."

"I don't believe catching is as hard as it was 10 or more years ago. Today's catchers don't have to handle so many pitches—no spitballs, for instance. There isn't quite as much danger to fingers. And there isn't as much work."

"Take a look at the number of assists of the catchers today, not nearly as many as in the days when there was more base running. Power hitting accounts for that."

Ruel thinks that because of the situation, the catcher's mitt might prove the quickest ticket to the top for a young player.

DiMaggio, Williams Presented Trophies

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON, Jan. 29.—The specter of the highest batting average of all time hung today over the crowds of baseball's two greatest hitters of 1941.

Boston baseball writers at their annual dinner last night paid tribute to Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, who hit safely in 56 consecutive games, and to Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox star who batted .406.

But the highlight of the evening was the writers' presentation of a gold wrist watch to Little Hugh Duffy, the 73-year-old wonder who back in 1894 set the never-threatened batting mark of .438.

Another wrist watch went to a second Hugh—Private Hugh Mulcahy, erstwhile mound toiler for the Philadelphia Phillies, first of modern crop of players to enter the armed forces.

Shannon trophy as the performer of baseball's outstanding feat of the year. The Jake Morse trophy, presented to Boston's most valuable player, was awarded, in absentia, to Williams.

The Sox slugger, going into the army, sent his regrets, leaving his .406 mark for the boys to shoot at before they can think of approaching Duffy's mark.

Heber "Dick" Newsome, Red Sox pitcher who won 19 games last year, won a trophy as Boston's outstanding rookie of the year.

Norton Seeks Help
COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—The 1942 freshman at Texas A. and M. will have only two years of varsity eligibility unless Southwest conference rules are changed.

Coach Homer Norton, pointing to the school's accelerated educational program, said yesterday he hoped sanction of freshman participation in varsity sports would come from the May meeting of conference officials.

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN

FROM THE OLD RHYME: "THURSDAY'S CHILD HAS FAR TO GO"

SYNOPSIS

Life to lovely, young Leslie (Sonny) Richardson was just drudgery in her foster-father's luncheon room on the Dixie Highway near Monroe, Michigan. She longed for the day when she could get away from it all. So, when opportunity in the form of Tom Hollister, young college student and scion of a wealthy New York family, appears, she grasps it. Tom and his friend, Jamie Hicks, had been touring in a trailer. One night they take Sonny to a dance and as they are about to return home, she stuns them with the announcement that she won't go back. Tom prevails upon her to change her mind but Richardson has locked the girl out, so the boys reluctantly agree to take her with them. Fearing Sonny's foster-father may have set the police on their trail, they leave their trailer on a back road in Toledo to avoid detection, and head for the state line. In Bowling Green, Tom marries Sonny to outwit the law. Jamie is worried over the consequences when the Hollister family learns the news. He insists upon being dropped off at Akron. After four days of leisurely travel, the honeymooners arrive in New York State. They park on a wooded countryside. The surrounding peace and quiet brought Sonny a contentment she had never known. But her happiness is short-lived for a state trooper suddenly appears and arrests them. In jail, Sonny meets Tom's brother, Kirk. His heart goes out to the pathetic figure in gingham with toll-worn hands and tear-redened eyes.

CHAPTER NINE

"You're Leslie," Kirk's voice was gentle. He sized up the girl. Not what he had expected, by any means. Younger. "I'm sorry this had to happen."

She couldn't answer him.

"My father shouldn't have had the police pick you up. I told him that. I flew in as soon as I could. He tried to put her at her ease. 'There are some things I want to ask you. Do you love my brother?'"

Sonny raised her head for the first time. Something in Kirk's answer truthfully: "I don't know."

"Do you want to stay married to him?"

"If Tom wants it," Kirk smiled grimly. "You can understand that my parents are rather upset."

"Oh, yes."

Kirk, taken aback, did not know where to go from that point, but he plunged ahead: "We're willing to do anything. If you'll agree to an annulment, we'll see you are properly taken care of."

Sonny looked confused.

"I mean money, real money," Kirk said frankly.

"I don't want money," she declared. "I can work."

Kirk patted the girl's slim shoulder. He felt sorry for her.

"You see, we love Tom so much we don't want him to make a mistake. He's so impulsive. He's—"

"I know."

"Will you agree to give him his freedom?"

"If he wants it."

"That's just it. He doesn't. It's up to you."

Sonny nodded vaguely and Kirk urged, "Please think it over. I'm going to take you both away from here soon. Don't worry. Everything is going to be fine."

Then O'Regan led Sonny back to her cell. Through the night she was feverish, sleeping fitfully in her rumpled cotton dress. It seemed morning would never come. She tried to be brave, to remember that Kirk had told her everything would be all right. But she was too ill and scared to do anything but lie there in misery.

When the matron brought her breakfast, Sonny managed to drink the weak coffee, but eat she could not. About 10 o'clock, O'Regan came for her again. "This way," he said not unkindly. Her abject misery was so patent, he added: "You're all right, kid. You've got a swell husband."

She was in the office again. Kirk

O'Regan led Sonny back to her cell.

was there with his attorney.

"Tom won't agree to anything until he sees you," Kirk began without any preface, then, turning to O'Regan, asked, "Will you bring him in, Officer?"

Soon a strange Tom, unshaven and untidy, appeared. He made a dive for Sonny; she clung to him desperately. Over Sonny's flaming red head, Tom faced the two men with, "That's your answer. You're not going to take her away from me. We know our own minds and you can't do a thing."

Kirk held up his hand. "You haven't a lot of money, Tom, and Dad means what he says."

"O. K. with us, Sonny's not used to any and I can get along. We've got our trailer."

Kirk shrugged his shoulders, but he came over and put his hand on his brother's arm. "You know how I feel, Tom."

"Sure, you're O. K. It was Dad and Mother!"

"You mustn't blame them, Tom. They love you."

"Sure, but they'll love Sonny when they know her. And besides, Dad has always wanted a grandchild."

Kirk's face was white.

"Is that the truth?"

"Certainly!"

Sonny's face was buried on Tom's shirt front as he talked.

The attorney interposed: "In that case, we'd better not interfere any more," he said.

Kirk gave up then, but declared after a pause: "We're going home. That is the only condition on which I accept this situation. You're to come with me. I brought Jules. He'll drive the trailer home."

"But we want to go on with our honeymoon."

Kirk stood firm. "You heard me, Tom. You and your wife are going home."

Tom finally agreed to fly back with Kirk.

"I told you everything would be all right, Sonny," Tom said jubilantly, as they drove to the airport.

"What about my foster father?" Sonny asked.

"Oh, he made a row, Kirk says, but, when he learned you were married, that was that."

Tom was his old gay self. He had got his way and the world was wonderful again.

"We'll come back in our trailer and go to Montreal as we planned, darling. You'll see!" he promised.

Then suddenly the airport was ahead with the Hollister ship and pilot waiting. But there was still another hurdle. Newspaper photographers were waiting.

Between Kirk and Tom, Sonny made a dash for the ship, but the camera men were quicker.

"Let's have a decent picture!" begged one of them who knew Kirk. "You might just as well get it over with."

"Just one," Kirk said, realizing there was no use arguing.

So that is how the picture of the wind-blown, rumpled girl and the two men appeared in the papers the next day. The stories were to make much of her gingham dress, the little girl from a restaurant who had married millions.
